Enters Race for 'Queen' Title

Madelyn (Mickey) Zwiertein is the third young lady to enter the campaign for the title of Rodeo Queen to reign over the four-day celebration in Redwood City, July 4-7. Mrs. Zwiertein, mother of a baby girl, is the wife of Harold Zwiertein. Like the other two contestants, she is 20 years old and brunette. She is sponsored by the Exchange Club. Tribune photo.

Ravenswood School Head Studies Area

Paul H. Henry, superintendent of the Ravenswood School District, this week was getting acquainted with the community in which he expects to live and work.

Unwilling to discuss his plans in any detail until he had had a chance to become more familiar with the situation, Henry said he considered the development of a program a three-way project involving the teachers and the community as well as the superintendent.

The man chosen by the board to replace Roy Liddicoat, whose contract the trustees refused to renew, expressed the opinion that "a community has a right to participate actively in planning and carrying out the school program."

In his effort to find out "what the people think they want their children to learn," Henry will work with the parent-teacher association, he indicated, as the group most effectively representing those interested in the schools.

Queried as to his stand on the issue between fundamentals and so-called progressive education, Henry said his more than 12 years as teacher and principal had led him to believe it possible "to teach and develop the fundamental controls of learning—the three R's—within such a framework that children are able in addition to get experience that develops the habits and attitudes of democracy."

Henry was born and educated in Ohio, and it was there that he taught in the one-room rural schools, served as teaching principal in a consolidated school, and held the principalship of one of the nation's outstanding elementary schools, that in Upper Arlington, suburb of Columbus.

While administering the Upper Arlington school, he used a testing program and is a staunch believer in tests to guide the education of the individual child and the curriculum as a whole. Such a testing program, he believes, should be worked out in cooperation with the teachers.

After three years in the navy, he is now on inactive duty status and serving as principal of a temporary school for children of personnel at Camp Shoemaker. He wants to remain in California and hopes to take some graduate work at Stanford.

With Mrs. Henry, he expects to be house-hunting in the Ravenswood School District. The family, now living in Newark, includes three children—a girl of 13 and two boys; one 9 and the other 22 months old.

R. C. Firemen Answer 54 Alarms in May
A monthly tabulation by Redwood City firemen showed that during May the department answered 54 alarms. During the month fire damage was $594.

For the fiscal year so far (July to June) the department has put out 316 fires which caused an estimated $14,477.50 damage. During the same period last year the department put out 251 fires which caused an estimated $21,132.41 damage.

20-30 Service Club Names Queen Ball Dance Committee

A gala evening of entertainment and dancing is being planned for the Queen's Ball, second of the pre-celebration events being held in preparation for the Fourth of July Rodeo and Celebration in Redwood City, according to Jack Thomas, chairman of the 20-30 Service Club's committee arranging the dance.

Thomas announced appointment of five committees to work on the dance, and said that four orchestras were being auditioned this week in order to select the best music available for the dance. Vaudeville numbers are also being lined up for the evening's fun, he said.

Committees have been named as follows: Tickets, Johnny Beckwith, mites of fun.

Tom Settles, Dale Woods and Cliff Butterfield; music, Jack Thomas, Haskell Nash, Tom Coats; decorations, Keith Smith, Bill Evans, Roy Baxter, Jerry Smith and Lorne Campbell; program, Jack Baxter, Bill Russ, Dan Loveland, Charles Barber and Gordon Welch; public relations, Elwayne Laurence, Eldon Mabie, Tom Williams and Frank Butterfield.

The dance will be held June 29, just a week after the community barbecue at Flood Park, which will mark start of "dress-up days" in preparation for the four-day celebration July 4-7.

Sunlight is one of the worst enemies of the dance.

18-Year-Old Girl Booked for Battery

Louise Duncan, 18, was in the San Mateo County jail Monday charged with battery after a brawl she allegedly precipitated at 302 Center St. yesterday afternoon.

According to police reports the young woman appeared at the Center St. dwelling in a drunken condition muttering and yelling all manner of unkind things about a boy friend of hers named Al Ward, who police believe roomed at the house.

When Ward did not put in an appearance Louise became violent about the whole thing with the result the police were called in. They booked her at the jail and today Rose Mary Calabrese of the address given signed a complaint charging Louise with battery, a misdemeanor.

New 'Peek-a-Boo' Artist Arrested

Graham Moulton, San Jose private detective who operates on the "peek-a-boo" principle, was arrested in Palo Alto Monday. He and his blonde wife were charged with entering a dwelling with intent to violate the privacy of the occupants.

The two were arrested following a scuffle in the apartment of Lucille Hooper, 1001 Ramona St. The detective allegedly snapped a picture of Mrs. Hooper with a man friend.

As Moulton was beating a hasty retreat with wife and camera he ran into the landlord, who detained him until Officer Mario Lucchesi arrived to arrest him on the complaint of Mrs. Hooper, police reported.

The pair were released after posting $25 bail.

San Carlos Tops Redwood City In Building Permits for 1946

Although Redwood City's total building permits so far this year showed a gain of $137,750 over those of San Carlos for the same period, San Carlos' total figures continued to show a slight bulge over those of Redwood City, reports from the building departments of the cities showed this week.

During the month of May, building permits in San Carlos totaled $232,600 to bring the figure for the year in that city to $2,438,100. In Redwood City, for the same period (May) building permits totaled $354,250, which added to figyear brought the year's total so far to $2,240,050. At the end of May, only $198,050 worth of building permits separated the construction figures for the two cities for the year.

The gap between the two cities remains the same this week since so far in this month building departments in both cities report that $34,500 worth of permits have been issued.

The earliest hand grenades weighed from two to six pounds.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Members of Redwood City Community Chest

With the prospects of the school term coming to a close scouts of the San Mateo County Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, have increased the tempo of camp registrations. Each day finds more scouts registering and the enthusiasm which prevails among the campers and the camp staff indicates one of the most successful and outstanding camping seasons of the local scout council.

Final plans have taken shape and the opening of camp on June 24 will find Camp Pescadero manned with what Chief E. A. Barrer, scout executive claims will be camp staff of the prewar years. The camp staff has been chosen and Chief Barrer and Chet Wilson will be on hand to welcome the campers.

All scouts who have not attended the camp are urged to register at once and be assured of the fun and adventure which can only be found at Camp Pescadero.

All scouts are urged to register for Camp Pescadero as soon as possible, Barrer said.

Hand-in-hand with the council Camp Pescadero is the announcement that the new campsite will be ready to welcome the troops of the council on June 24. This announcement was made this week by Chet Wilson, council camp coordinator, who has been overseeing the construction and preparation of the camp. Each weekend finds a group of men at the camp making preparations and getting all in readiness for the opening.

All scouts who have been enrolling new scouts and who are going to secure the week at Camp Pescadero free of charge for enrolling 10 or more scouts are reminded that the contest closes on June 10.

Thomas J. Reynolds, council training chairman, has notified all scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and commissioners of the coming seminar which will be held at the new camp site on June 8 and 9. The seminar will open at 2 p. m. on Saturday and will run through 3 p. m. on Sunday.

The course is of vital interest to the leaders as it will prepare all who attend in the essentials of troop camping.

Air scouts of Air Squadron 1 of San Mateo and of Air Squadron 2 of San Carlos participated in the first encampment of air scouts in the West at the Army Air Base at Merced as guests of the Army Air Forces. Twenty members of the two squadrons spent four days at the base and report that the army instruction and use of equipment was enlightening. All of the facilities were open to the senior scouts and a regular Army Air Force schedule was adhered to. More than 500 air scouts from Northern California were in attendance.

The yearly Palo Alto Council's invitational regatta was held over the weekend and the ships of the San Mateo Council participated in the activities. The program was based on the regional regatta which will be held at Alameda in September and found the Sea Scouts practicing their skills in all events. Highlight of the regatta was a bridge of honor and dance held Saturday evening.

Plans have been completed for the Southern Division Court of Honor which will be held Friday, 7:45 p. m., at the San Carlos Elementary School. A program of interesting entertainment has been arranged by Stanley Marcus, chairman of the advancement committee. The final board of review will be held at the Redwood City Boy Scout office tomorrow at 7 p. m.

All troops and senior scout units are invited to attend the court of honor ceremonies and entertainment, Barrer said.

During the past week the charter application of Troop 108 was received at the local Boy Scout office. Troop 108 is sponsored by the Church of the Nativity of Menlo Park and meets on Monday evenings at the church. C. J. Oram is scoutmaster and is assisted by Asst. Scoutmasters W. E. Dale and N.

Dress Shop Owner Hit by OPA Charge

Asst. U. S. Atty. Reynold Colvin, acting on information furnished by Office of Price Administration investigators, Wednesday filed an information in San Francisco before Federal Judge Michael J. Roache charging Mrs. Dora Barrish of Redwood City with detaching ceiling price tags from four women's coats and six dresses for purposes of boosting prices.

Mrs. Barrish is the proprietor of The Barry Dress Shop, 2419 Broadway, Alameda, OPA press officer in San Francisco, said. Clark said the information filed was the same thing as a complaint.

Colvin said that Mrs. Barrish would be charged on four counts and that the maximum penalty for what he termed a criminal charge was one year's imprisonment or $5000 fine or both.

The information charged that coats originally tagged at ceiling prices of $22.50 had been marked up to $27.50, and dresses had been increased from $7.50 to $10.95 each.

Clark said it was the first of its type he had handled as a press officer. He said the information charged that Mrs. Barrish removed tags put on clothing at the place of manufacture.

Terminus for Weekend Joy Rides

Occupants of these three automobiles were all killed or injured during heavy Memorial Day weekend traffic in the Redwood City area. Above: the demolished car that carried two youths, Edmund N. Pogano and Bernardo Pinotti to their deaths late Friday when it crashed into a truck on Bayshore Hwy. Lower left: John Reposa, Redwood City, who was critically injured last night when the car in which he was riding overturned on Woodside Rd. Lower right: The overturned sedan which smashed into a traffic light at Broadway and El Camino after colliding with another car. All four persons in this machine were badly injured. Tribune photos.

S.F. Man Booked In Accident Death

Wilford Leffler, 23, San Francisco, was booked at the county jail Tuesday on a manslaughter charge as the result of the Apr. 27 death of Calvin Mann, 21, in a Bayshore Hwy. traffic accident.

Mann was a passenger in a car driven by Leffler when it crashed head-on into a Greyhound bus. Ten persons, including Leffler, were injured in the accident which occurred south of Geneva Ave. Leffler's bail was set at $1000.

Ex-Store Managers Team in Venture

Two former Montgomery Ward managers and an ex-army lieutenant today were teamed up in a new Redwood City real estate firm.

The company bears the name of Joseph De Geller, manager of the MW store here in 1937-38-39. Associated with him are Edwin L. Aldrich, 32 Myrtle St., MW manager here in 1944, and Anthony Fritz of Palo Alto, former army lieutenant.

Both Aldrich and De Geller had 15-year records of service with MW.

Admits Bogus Checks

Henry E. Pilgrim of Bakersfield has pleaded guilty to three counts of passing fictitious checks while he was on terminal leave as an army air forces officer.

Pilgrim asked for probation after he admitted passing fictitious checks totaling $130 at the officers' club at Dibble General Hospital.

The probation officer was asked to report June 17.

DENIES BETTING CHARGE

George A. Woodard has pleaded not guilty to six counts of on track bookmaking at Bay Meadows race track, and was granted a one week's continuance by Judge Edmund Scott in setting date for trial.

Girls Admit Ransacking Brisbane Cottage

Two 13-year-old girls who admitted entering a Brisbane weekend cottage and smashing windows and overturning furniture, has promised authorities to repair the damage.

James J. Wood, owner of the cabin called Sheriff James J. McGrath yesterday to report the entry of his cabin. A radio, waffle iron and other items had been removed, he said.

Wood refused to sign any complaints against the girls, whom he knew, when they promised to clean up the damage.

Trustees Hear Almack School Plan

Dr. John Almack, Stanford University educator, Tuesday night outlined the general scope of his proposed survey of the Sequoia High School Dist. at a special meeting of the board of trustees held in the board's room at the high school.

Doctor Almack is thus far the only one of several applicants for the job of conducting the survey who has made a personal appearance before the trustees. Whether any of the other applicants will subsequently present their proposed survey before the board was not known today by Dist. Supt. A. C. Argo.

Decision to have a comprehensive survey of the entire school district, its needs and remedies was reached by the trustees at a special meeting early in April. Such a survey would include, among other things, a study of the community's educational needs, estimated costs of proposed building programs, a measurement of the type of instruction current in the schools and a minor survey of the curricula.

Doctor Almack at the present time is conducting a survey of the Redwood City Elementary Dist. This is seen by some board members as a point in his favor for being awarded the Sequoia High School Dist. assignment as it would cut down the expenses of the larger survey.

The Stanford professor said that he would appear before the trustees at their regular meeting June 21 and go into details about his survey.

Inasmuch as no buses are at the present time available, the trustees decided Tuesday to postpone the opening of the bids for a new school bus until the meeting later this month.

YOUTH SENTENCED

William D. Henderson, one of six youths charged with burglarizing a Colma paint store and later cashing $12,000 in forged checks, has been sentenced to serve eight months in the county jail and was granted two years' probation by Judge Edmund Scott.

Butcher Closing Due Again Monday

San Mateo County housewives apparently faced next week another "meatless Monday" as indications were that the county's butchers would again take Monday off to attend to "private business."

Union officials declared that "it is up to the employers" as they reported they were standing pat on the union's demand for a Monday closing of all meat markets, while an employer spokesman stated that "there has been no change in the situation," indicating that the employers were equally firm in refusing the union's proposal.

No new meetings have been scheduled for the two negotiating committees, although the union has said it is ready to meet with the Peninsula Retail Meat Dealers Assn. any time they want.

The only ray of hope that the issue might be settled soon, was seen in the announcement by Earl Schmidt, secretary of the association, that the employers may have "a statement within the next few days."

The question of the addition of a health and welfare plan to the union's demands, "is still an undecided issue," Edwin F. Schmidt, secretary of the butchers' union said Wednesday.

R.C. Squires Invest New Group

Circle 434, Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Columbian Squires, invested a new circle Monday in San Mateo. Both circles are sponsored by the San Mateo Knights of Columbus, the only council in the United States, so far as is known, that sponsors more than one circle.

The new circle is composed chiefly of teenage boys of San Mateo and Burlingame, of the freshman and sophomore classes of Serra High School.

Redwood City's degree team of Jerry Britschgi, Matte Formico, Dick Ferrando, Frank Fabbro, Bob Wayne, Sam Winkler, Bill Jordan and Henry Thierry was in charge of the initiation.

South San Mateo County Property Owners Organize

Henry Witte, Redwood City realtor, today announced that an organization of property owners is being undertaken in southern San Mateo County. The organization, a branch of the National Home and Property Owners' Foundation, will combat trends toward "socialization" of real estate ownership, and will "foster, maintain and protect" private ownership of homes, farms and other real property.

At a meeting of the Southern San Mateo County Board of Realtors Tuesday, Witte was named captain of the group with two lieutenants, Mary Albertson of Menlo Park and Benjamin Pfeiffer of San Carlos. "We expect 1000 members in the southern part of San Mateo County," Witte declared.

Witte cited the message of Arthur W. Binns, president of the national foundation: "The founding fathers of this favored land believed that free institutions could prevail only under a system of equality of opportunity in which men were free to invest their money—to own property—to pursue their businesses and to reap the rewards of merit. This system has been called free competitive enterprise, with an incentive stimulus under a representative republic founded on government by law.

"It produced a country strong enough to save the world. It produced the most magnificent production machine the world has ever seen. It raised our standard of living higher than any known in history.

"Today that superb performance stands in peril. It stands in peril because men in high places do not believe in the power of a free people. They embrace rather a European born system of statism or national socialism in which the individual, hitherto the master, becomes the servant, and the state, hitherto the servant, becomes the master."

"We are choosing up sides. There are about 30,000,000 of us in this country who own a piece of land. If rather than a dumb, inarticulate, unorganized mass we now arise, unite, time our efforts, give it great leadership, organize and speak—we have at our command a voice which may not be denied."

Frank A. DePatta is president of the realtor board.

The board adjourned its Tuesday meeting in respect to the memory of the late H. C. Tuchen, its first president.

$400 Jewel Theft In Menlo Park

Mrs. R. M. Leggett, 355 San Mateo Dr., Menlo Park, Sunday reported theft of a jewel box containing items valued at $400 to Sheriff James J. McGrath.

Mrs. Leggett said the loss occurred on May 10, but was not discovered until last week.

On May 10, she said, she was in the back yard of her home when her dog barked. Because she was recovering from a fractured leg at the time, she was unable to hurry into the house and investigate.

Cute tricks with June vegetables

Double your enjoyment of the grand variety of colorful, garden-fresh vegetables that are plentiful in June by preparing them in different ways. Take a look at these bright ideas on the subject.

MAIN DISH EGGPLANT—Cut eggplant in half lengthwise and parboil for 15 minutes. Scoop out center, mash and combine with chopped cooked meat, ½ cup of bread crumbs, grated onion, and seasonings to taste. Add a beaten egg and mix well. Refill shells, dot with butter or margarine, and bake in hot oven (400° F.) for 15 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

CARROTS AND SQUASH—Cut carrots and zucchini or Italian squash in thin slices, and steam in just a bit of water until tender, about 10 minutes. Season with salt, pepper, onion juice and sprinkle with grated cheese to serve.

BROCCOLI—Season cooked broccoli with salt, pepper, and a tablespoon or two of orange juice. Top with grated orange rind to serve. Simply delicious!

GLORIFIED GREEN BEANS—For a pleasing new flavor, sprinkle green beans with a bit of nutmeg just before serving.

SPEED-EASY FRIED POTATOES—If you want tasty potatoes in a hurry, try this method. Shred potatoes and onions and brown in hot fat, stirring frequently. Then add just a bit of water, cover, and steam for about 5 minutes. Try yams or sweet potatoes this way, too. They're ready in no time at all.

CREAMED RADISHES—Trim radishes leaving about 1 inch of stem. Cook uncovered in salted water to cover, 15 to 20 minutes or until just tender. Drain and add to white sauce. They are like the most delicate flavored turnips.

FRIED ONIONS AND CUCUMBERS—Truly tasty as an accompaniment for steak or liver. Peel and slice cucumbers and onions and saute in hot fat until golden brown. Season with salt and pepper.

TOPPED ASPARAGUS—Cook asparagus stalks separately from tips. When tender, drain and mash stalks, adding a bit of evaporated milk and butter or margarine for a creamy consistency. Season and serve as a sauce over the asparagus tips.

Millions of people are starving in Europe and Asia... and it is up to us Americans to feed them! We hope for peace and understanding in the world, and it will take bread and butter to realize that hope. We must give generously... and that means there will be some food scarcity at home. The way out is through a lesson we learned during the war... raising food in our home gardens! In wartime 1943 the U. S. raised eight million tons of food in Victory Gardens, and American housewives put up three and one-half billion quarts of food... most of it home-grown. It is time for Americans to do it again!
